President Asks Powers To Curb Inflation Now

Economic Report Message To Congress Outlines Many Powers Desired

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—President Truman again asked Congress today for sweeping anti-inflation powers and in a surprise move called for increased Social Security taxes as an additional safeguard against depression.

The chief executive also asked extension of rigid rent controls for at least two more years and repeal of the controversial tax on Oleomargarine.

Mr. Truman, in his third annual economic report, repeated his call for standby price ceiling and wage-control authority as part of his eight-point program to end the threat of perilous inflation.

Narrowly Escaped Recession

The president, declaring that the nation narrowly missed a "general recession" last spring, also asked power to impose priorities and allocations on scarce materials.

He said the four billion dollars in new taxes asked in his State of the Union message is "our most effective weapon against inflation."

At the same time, Mr. Truman promised tax reductions to counter "any serious recessionary movement" that might develop.

The president declared: "We have been granted a breathing spell, but... in 1949 we are entering a period of harder tests. The momentum of war-created demand and war-created purchasing power has waned, curbing inflation is the first step toward preventing depression."

The chief executive's message was read to the House of Representatives. He did not appear personally.

The president recommended an eight-pronged attack on inflation, including standby price ceilings and limited wage controls, and priorities and allocations on scarce materials.

Three New Proposals

Mr. Truman called for three actions not included in his State of the Union message:

1. An increase in social security taxes under existing and extended programs as an anti-inflation measure.

2. Extension of rigid rent controls for "at least two more years."

3. Repeal of the controversial tax on oleomargarine.

The President said that it is possible that he may not be forced to use the standby anti-inflation controls, but he added:

"We need to have available a range of governmental measures which can be applied as a brake or as an accelerator according to need."

Weapons Needed

"In times like the present, when the economic situation has mixed elements, the government needs both anti-inflationary weapons and anti-deflationary weapons. It will be ready for either contingency."

"It may even be necessary to employ both types of measures concurrently in some combination, for some (Continued on Page Two)"

Grant Street Fire Causes General Alarm Early Today

Shown above is the exterior of the fire gutted Riverside Inn building on Grant street, near the Shenango river bridge, which caused a general fire alarm early this morning, due to threatening proportions of the blaze in its early stages. The interior of the first floor was gutted and remainder of the building somewhat damaged.

Fire On Grant Street Causes General Alarm

Riverside Inn Damaged To Extent Of $8,000 Or More Early This Morning

Fire which broke out at 2:30 a.m. today from an over-heated furnace caused damage estimated around $8,000, at the Riverside Inn, 506 West Grant street, of which Joseph Di Giammarino, 1502 Delaware avenue, is the proprietor.

The cellar and first floor, or bar-room and side-rooms, of the three-story frame structure were gutted. On the second floor are apartments, but according to Fire Chief Herman Steinbrink, the apartments were empty, the occupants having moved not so long ago.

General Alarm

A woman telephoned an alarm of fire at 2:35 a.m. Another alarm was sent in by firemen at 2:40 a.m. and when the blaze proved stubborn for the firemen already there, a general alarm was turned in at 2:45 a.m. and all paid firemen, excepting those temporarily stationed at Central, responded to fight the blaze.

Wage Controls To Be Unnecessary

Truman's Belief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—President Truman assured Labor today that he believes it will be unnecessary to apply wage controls in the Government's battle against inflation.

The President, in his economic report to the 81st Congress, repeated previous requests for standby authority to regulate prices and wages but expressed hope such power will not have to be used.

Mr. Truman's state of the Union message two days ago drew criticism in union circles on the subject of wage-freezing.

In today's economic document, however, Mr. Truman said: "I firmly believe that the normal processes of collective bargaining will result in sound wage adjustments without the actual application of any governmental authority related to wages if business and government make genuine efforts to hold down excessive prices and profits and to reduce the cost of living."

LAUREN BACALL MOTHER OF SON

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Movie tough guy Humphrey Bogart and his actress wife, Lauren Bacall, welcomed their first-born child today.

The baby, a six-pound, six-ounce boy, arrived late last night at the Cedars of Lebanon hospital.

It has been named Stephen Humphrey Bogart.

The Bogarts were married in May, 1945, at the Mansville, Ohio, farm of novelist Louis Bromfield.

Terrace School For Craftsmen Graduates 58 In First Class

Fifty-eight craftsmen were graduated Thursday in The Castleton hotel when the first commencement of the Terrace School for Craftsmen was held.

It was the first commencement of its kind ever to be held in the county it is believed. There were no caps and gowns, no class yells nor songs about ivy covered halls, but there was an apparent seriousness about the young men as they marked the completion of their two year's training to become carpenters, cabinet makers and upholsterers.

Many Guests Present

Present in addition to the graduates and school faculty were representatives of the Veterans Administration, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and contractors.

The commencement luncheon opened at 1:30 with Rev. V. Stan-telewski, pastor of St. Philip and James church offering the invocation. L. H. Luxenberg, president of the school presided.

Principal speaker was L. M. Rittenour, chief of the Training Facilities Section of the Veterans Administration Regional Office of (Continued on Page Two)

Truce Hopes In China Appear To Be Doomed

Report Chinese Communists All-Out Assault On Shanghai-Nanking

NANKING, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Chinese communists reportedly launched their long-awaited all-out assault on the Shanghai-Nanking area today, virtually dooming truce hopes.

Reliable military sources said that seven Red columns struck at Nationalist lines from above the Hwai River, 110 miles north of Nanking.

Part of one of the columns was reported to have crossed the Hwai. It was said to be engaged in a bitter battle with Chiang Kai-Shek's troops.

Earlier, government officials virtually conceded that their pleas for a truce had failed when the Communists replied to their peace offensive with a bombardment near besieged Tientsin.

The outbreak of fresh fighting in North China after the holiday lull brought one bit of consolation for the government, however, with the report that the Red high command had suffered a serious blow in the death of its ace leader.

The Nationalists announced that the one-eyed communist Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, chief of all central front Red armies, had been killed in an attack by a nationalist bomber on the east central front.

From a high nationalist military and administrative leader, Gen. Chen Cheng, came the admission that prospects of peace with the communists are now "very slim."

New Storm Is Driving Toward Blizzard Area

Death Toll In Previous Storm Is Now Placed At 17 Persons

DENVER, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A new storm swept south from Canada today toward the blizzard-stricken Rocky mountain region today as the death toll from the earlier snowfall reached 17.

Fifty-mile-an-hour winds drove the storm out of the Pacific northwest on the heels of one of the worst blizzards in the nation's history while frantic rescue workers tried to free those still trapped by mountainous drifts in Wyoming and Colorado.

The Denver weather bureau predicted the new blow would strike northeast Wyoming by tonight.

The forecasts spelled gloom for livestock raisers whose losses already are believed high.

Continue Aid

Meanwhile, air force rescue units planned to continue their "operation vultures" to parachute supplies of food, blankets and medicine to trapped motorists and isolated inhabitants in the region.

Further flights in "operation lamb" are scheduled to get hay and feed to livestock marooned in the snow covered wastes of the area.

Winds up to 32 miles an hour hit Casper, Wyo., early this morning and piled the already-fallen snow into high drifts to add to the hazards and difficulties of rescue crews.

May Cripple Rails

The latest storm threatened to cripple Chicago-west coast rail transportation again just after it had been unscathed. Many of the nation's top streamliners had been blocked at various points between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Omaha, Neb., since late Monday and early Tuesday.

Mauna Loa Volcano Near Honolulu In Eruption

Flames rise in the air as molten lava flows down from the crest of Mauna Loa volcano near Honolulu. The famous volcano is erupting today with three streams of lava flowing from the crater.

Famed Mauna Loa Is Again In Eruption On Island Of Hawaii

(BULLETIN)

HONOLULU, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Two streams of deadly hot lava flowed down the sides of Hawaii's famed and fearsome Mauna Loa today and menaced Hilo and Kona coast.

The towering volcano began belching forth high-shooting flames and billowing smoke from its 13,675-foot crater on the island of Hawaii toward dusk last night. The huge fire and smoke column was seen 200 miles away by the crew and passengers of the incoming Pan-America Airways Clipper Cathay.

Two Lava Streams

The clipper's pilot, Capt. B. S. Harrell, said there were two lava streams. One was flowing down the volcano's eastern slope toward the city of Hilo. The second was moving down the western slope toward the Kona coast.

The western stream had reached a point seven miles from the peak of the volcano.

There was no early report of any casualties or destruction that might have been inflicted by the eruption on villages near the base of Mauna Loa.

A number of villages and towns lie along the Kona coast on the west side of Hawaii island, the largest and southernmost of the Hawaiian archipelago. Hilo, the island's chief city, lies on the east coast.

Thousands Homeless In Southern Floods

(By International News Service)

Two persons were missing and feared dead today and thousands of others were homeless as ram-paging rivers and streams spilled over their banks in four southern states.

Major rivers in Mississippi—the hardest hit of the four—and in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee were expected to crest late today.

Meanwhile, hundreds of farms and homes in Indiana were threatened by the flooding White river and more than 300 persons were homeless in the Columbus area after Haw creek and Flatrock river overflowed.

Collapse of a bridge spanning the rain-swollen Hiwassee River on U. S. route 11 near Etowah, Tenn., swept a truck and an automobile into the stream.

A motorist who had crossed the bridge safely a short time earlier told authorities two men were in the cab of the truck which was missing and believed swallowed up in the swirling waters.

ATHENS, O., Jan. 7.—(INS)—Police in three states were engaged in a manhunt today for a brutal killer who bludgeoned a 55-year-old spinster to death in her home near Athens, O.

Miss Eleanor E. Gifford, a field worker for the Episcopal church, was beaten about the head with what Ohio police believe to be a tire iron yesterday. She was robbed and her 1948 Chevrolet sport sedan is missing.

Dr. John H. Elias, Athens County Coroner, said Miss Gifford had not been raped.

Resignations Are Announced By President Today

James E. Webb Is Named As Lovett's Successor As Undersecretary Of State

MARSHALL QUILTS BECAUSE OF HEALTH

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—President Truman announced today the resignation of George C. Marshall as Secretary of State and the appointment of Dean Acheson as his successor.

At the same time, Mr. Truman announced that Robert A. Lovett has resigned as Under Secretary of State and that he will be succeeded by James E. Webb, now budget director.

Marshall's resignation, announced exactly two years after he was appointed to the cabinet post, is effective Jan. 20.

Quits Because Of Health

The career soldier who as American chief of staff was one of the principal allied architects of victory in World War II quit for "reasons of health". Marshall, who is 68, underwent a major operation last month.

Acheson, who resigned from government service two years ago after serving as under secretary and assistant secretary of state, pledged himself to carry out Mr. Truman's policies in the global "cold war" against communism.

The incoming secretary is a native of Connecticut, a former under secretary of the treasury and a lawyer by profession. He is 55.

The president's momentous announcement, made at a specially-summoned news conference, was dramatically unexpected.

Shows Deep Emotion

Mr. Truman made no attempt to conceal his deep emotion. He once called Marshall the "greatest living American" and has a profound affection for the soldier-statesman.

Armed Bandit Holds Up Store

Police last night and detectives today searched for an armed bandit who robbed the cash register in the Smith Confectionary store at 1028 Croft avenue at 6:55 p. m. Thursday.

The bandit pointed a 32 or 38 calibre revolver at J. Norman Smith, the proprietor and ordered him to "hand over the money."

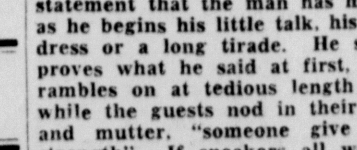

Smith fled through a rear door to the Vine street fire department where police were telephoned.

While Smith was summoning police, the bandit went to the cash register from which he took $50 cash, in five and ten dollar bills, then fled into Vine street.

When'er I hear this hackneyed phrase, "Unaccustomed as I am," I look around to find my hat and try to take it on the lam. I know what follows will just stress the statement that the man has made as he begins his little talk, his address or a long tirade. He soon proves what he said at first, and rambles on at tedious length the while the guests nod in their tea and mutter, "someone give me strength". If speakers all would learn to know that sitting down would help their play, their talk would get a bigger hand—it's warm and forty-six today.

Pa Newc Observes

Sign posts and lamp standards have been the target for erring motorists during the past day or so. Workmen were called to repair a broken sign post in the vicinity of First Methodist church this morning and Thursday afternoon, one of the lamp posts on North Mercer street, near East Washington street was demolished.

Milder temperatures over the past few days have played havoc with unpaved rural roads. Many of the roads and lanes leading to homes off the main highways are quite deeply rutted and present problems for some of the newer lower slug automobiles.

Some Reaction To Message Of Governor Duff

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—(INS)—Reaction to Gov. James H. Duff's message to the General Assembly ranged from expected praise to frank skepticism among his opponents.

Said House Majority Leader Charles H. Brunner, of Norristown: "The governor's program is the greatest ever offered to the people of the Commonwealth."

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D) Pittsburgh said: "Let's see what laws come out of it."

Senate Minority Leader John H. Dent, of Jeannette, declared: "If Duff gets the support of his party we will have our democratic platform enacted."

Senate President Pro Tempore M. Harvey Taylor of Harrisburg said: "It is a great humanitarian program for all the people and I feel certain it will meet with the enthusiastic approval of all the people."

House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Johnstown, crowed: "We were just two years ahead of our time."

Get Down To Work

House Majority Whip Charles S. Smith of Philadelphia said: "It is now up to us to get down to work and insure early adoption of every phase of this program."

Sen. Burton E. Tarr (D) Fayette asserted: "Duff forgot all about relief. I'm not in favor of the gas tax until I see a blueprint of where it is to be used. The rest looks like a democratic program."

Senate Majority Leader John M. Walker, of Pittsburgh, stated: "Surely no one can find fault with a program that tries to give the people of Pennsylvania the things they want and need."

House Minority Whip James E. Lovett, of Trafford, observed: "All we have to do is pass that program."

Catalogues of 1889-1890, advertised two-burner gas stoves for $12.00, "to do the work nicely for small families, including washing and baking."

Assails Truman's Proposal For Building Plants

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Only one steelmaker in the Pittsburgh district today had raised his voice in protest of President Truman's recommendation that the government go into the steel business.

While most maintained a cautious silence, Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the Board of National Steel Co., blasted the president's proposal as "foolish" and "damaging" to the nation's welfare.

Weir said that the steel industry should be getting a "pat on the back" instead of a kick in the pants.

He termed the big need for steel now abnormal and temporary, adding: "The sensible course is to build additional capacity sufficient to fill maximum normal needs."

A spokesman for the U. S. Steel Corp. said it was not the policy of the firm to make a rebuttal to the president's talks. If they are called to testify at a congressional hearing, he explained, they will give their side of the story.

Other district steel men either had no comment or felt no cause for alarm.

prices or incomes could rise too rapidly while others could be falling dangerously.

"The same dictates of prudent policy which call for higher taxes in a period of inflation would call for tax adjustments designed to counteract a serious recessionary movement."

Powers Asked

To attack inflation and curb rising prices, the President asked these legislative powers:

1. Standby price controls on scarce commodities, with authority to impose ceilings and withhold price advances "for a reasonable period" while public hearings are held, plus authority to limit unjustified price advances which would break a price ceiling.
2. Authorize mandatory allocations and priorities on key materials in short supply.
3. Continue rent controls for at least two years, and strengthen enforcement.

Continue Restrictions

4. Continue restrictions on consumer installment buying, and enlarge control of bank credits by empowering the Federal Reserve system to require all FDIC banks to hold supplemental reserves up to 10 per cent against demand deposits and 4 per cent against time deposits.
5. Authority to prevent excessive speculation and price manipulation on the commodity exchanges.
6. Continuing priorities and allocations authority on transportation mediums.
7. Continue export controls and strengthen enforcement machinery.
8. Governmental study of the adequacy of production for materials in short supply.

In addition to the eight-point controls, the President listed these further needs for the nation "to promote a balanced economic growth":

1. An increase both in social security contributions and benefits.
2. Careful limitation of federal spending.
3. Increase of the minimum wage to at least 75 cents an hour.
4. A long-range farm price-support law.
5. Government low-cost housing to produce a million units in seven years.
6. Restoration and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act.
7. Approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway project, full development of other power resources in the main river basins, and development of natural resources.
8. Ratification of an international wheat agreement.

Pittsburgh. Mr. Rittenour lauded the work of the school, told of the government's interest in such projects and congratulated the fifty-eight young men upon their completion of the two year course.

Other Speakers

William Kelley, manager of the Carpenters' District Council, Pittsburgh was the second speaker. He compared the two years' training under instructors in theory and practice with the apprenticeships of many years ago. He told of the interest of the union in the school and of the steps necessary before the graduates become full pledged journeymen.

Worrel M. Jones, training officer in charge of training in Lawrence county, Veterans' Administration followed Mr. Kelley. He related the history of the founding of the school, its work thus far and predicted that the commencement scene in The Castleton would be duplicated many times.

Attorney Allen D. Keller of Ellwood City was the closing speaker. He spoke of the necessity of trained craftsmen in the modern world and said it was the aim of the school to turn out men qualified to do the highest type of work. The graduates were then presented, the names being read by Ralph O'Beir, chief instructor of the Terrace School for Craftsman.

Deny Negligence In Fatal Crash Of Big Airliner

SCRANTON Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—United Airlines today denied negligence resulted in the death of 42 persons including Broadway producer Earl Carroll when a coast-to-coast Mainliner crashed in flames June 17 on a Pennsylvania mountainside.

The complaint was lodged against the airline by Mrs. Jessie I. Schuyler of Los Angeles, executrix of the Carroll estate, in a suit filed with the U. S. district court at Scranton December 13.

The huge airliner was close to the ground when it struck a high tension transformer at a hard coal mine near Mt. Carmel, Pa., and virtually disintegrated. Several days were required to complete identification of the victims.

The airline denied negligent operation caused the crash and claimed Mrs. Schuyler lacked legal grounds to sue because she had failed to make written claim against the company within 90 days of the crash.

Bettis Airport Site May Be Used For Atomic Laboratory

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today held an option on Bettis Airport in Pittsburgh as site for its laboratory to build an atomic power unit for driving navy ships.

Westinghouse assured residents of the area that there would be no danger of radiation, since actual testing of the "atomic engine" would be held elsewhere. The company recently was assigned the job of building the atomic power unit, in cooperation with the Argonne National Laboratory of Chicago, by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

flames were belching out of the rear portion of the cellar and had spread to the first floor.

Firemen donned masks, and the trucks pumped water through 2500 feet of 2½ inch hose to quell the conflagration. The structure had to be ventilated to allow smoke to clear before firemen could enter the building.

The fire was finally extinguished after it had gutted the interior of the cellar and first floor. The building damaged was about $3000, and stock in the cafe suffered a loss of approximately $5000, the chief estimated.

The chief said that he was told by Mr. De Giammarino that he had fixed the furnace about two a. m. and left for home in a taxicab. The flames were discovered 35 minutes later.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Allied military officials occupied with the essentials of defense in event of armed emergency were given a sharp warning today that there is insufficient manpower and materiel in Western Europe to hold the Rhine against attack.

The admonition came from a source well-qualified to know. He is Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, one of the greatest generals in Adolf Hitler's army who apparently has been cleared of any Nazi taint and whose deep knowledge of terrain and other military factors is being utilized by Allied officials.

Guderian's testimony is valuable at this time of tension in Europe because it is known that Hitler's war plans always anticipated an offensive against Soviet Russia even when Berlin and Moscow were linked by a non-aggression pact.

Offensive preparations in the German war college always had a defensive corollary so Guderian's belief obviously is based upon the theory that Nazi Germany might have had to make a stand facing eastward at the Rhine had her invasion of Russia gone wrong from the beginning.

Did Not Happen
This did not happen. On the contrary, the German pushed to within 80 miles of Moscow and overreached themselves fantastically at Stalingrad on the Volga. The armies finally collapsed so completely that all defense measures went by the board.

But they were carefully prepared even if never used and Guderian had a large part in their drafting.

One of the few top-flight German generals to be spared from death, incapacitation or imprisonment, Guderian attracted attention from the first stages of the war in Western Europe.

He was one of the greatest tank experts of the conflict and is credited with having originated mass attacks by rolling armor and the highly successful tactic of by passing opposing garrisons, later to bottle them up in an encircling movement.

One of the first to recognize Guderian's ability was General Charles De Gaulle of France whose efforts to mechanize the French army were ignored. A promising "student" in Guderian's school was the late Field Marshal Erwin Rommel. But the latter failed when the "hit and run" strategy he used so successfully in Africa proved useless when he led a huge army group in France.

To Be Decided On Ground

Guderian's estimate of the situation indicated, incidentally, that like so many other old-line army men he believed that the next war, if there is one, will be decided on the ground despite the atomic bomb and controlled weapons.

This general's immense ability saved him from elimination at the hands of the Nazis during the war even though he dared to criticize Marshal Herman Wilhelm Goering.

His once unbeatable tank army was battered and torn into uselessness simply because Goering's air

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I ought to be ashamed of myself.

But I couldn't help laughing when I read that item about the Philadelphia couple who got folded up in their folding bed and had to be sent to a hospital.

Nothing serious, and I am quite sure that the two are up and about again and having a good laugh of their own over the accident.

Probably they are telling all their friends about how the darn thing collapsed over them, how the husband wiggled out, and how both were baffled in the head by flying springs, slats, bolts and what have you.

I wonder what it is in the human makeup that makes us laugh at the misfortune of others.

It's nothing malicious, I am sure.

It is no more malicious than the delight with which we read of other people being less fortunate than we are.

Do analyze sometime the jokes at which we laugh the most.

Listen to Jack Benny or Fred Allen or any of your other favorite comedians.

Isn't it usually somebody's bad luck that brings the loudest laughs?

Or isn't it someone's shortcomings—such as Benny's stinkiness or the bags under Allen's eyes?

Or take the average conversation.

Some time or other during a friend's visit it will go something like this:

"Have you heard the awful news about Frieda's dog?"

"No I haven't. Tell me."

"Why, my dear, Frieda's dog—that awful boxer, you know—bit the milkman in the leg and now he's suing her and her husband for $10,000. And the poor dears haven't even any insurance."

So you both sympathize with poor Frieda and, inwardly, you probably think it serves her jolly well right.

In the first place, you think, she has always been a little bit too stout. And in the second place that awful boxer of hers trampled all over that lovely nasturtium bed of yours last summer and—

"Poor, poor Frieda," you say to your friend as you pour her another cup of tea.

By the way, speaking about nasturtiums, and for no particular reason at all, let me tell you a little story I heard at the last Sigma Delta Chi meeting (Sigma Delta Chi being my fraternity).

The speaker wanted to emphasize the fact that it isn't good to be too blasé and sophisticated.

So he told about the fellow who came to Bob Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" office.

This fellow had four plants in full bloom growing right out of his head—a nasturtium, a petunia, a pansy and a rose.

"I would like to see Mr. Ripley," he said to the receptionist.

She looked him over carefully, then asked without evincing the slightest bit of interest:

"What do you want to see Mr. Ripley about?"

From Me To You

By MESEALL

All of us should be interested in the young men of our community who are today undergoing military training. Most of the men from this community and surrounding territory served by Lawrence County . . . upon being inducted into the Army find their basic training period takes place at Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky . . . just what the camp is like we can't rightly say . . . however the Commanding General and his staff urge that parents, wives, brothers and sisters visit the place of operation . . . here are their very words:

a. Motor bus tour of Camp Breckinridge to acquaint you with the every-day life of a soldier to include the athletic, religious and recreational facilities which are available to him. This tour will include the Chapels, the Hospital Area, the Laundry, Service Club, the Library, the Post Exchange, the Rifle Range, the Hobby Shop, the Field House, Regimental Areas, Warehouse Area, Theaters, Recreation Halls and the Bakery.

b. You may attend the Army Motion Picture Theater, when accompanied by the soldier with whom you are visiting.

c. You will be welcome at our three Service Clubs.

d. Attached is a card which entitles you to a meal with your host at his unit's mess hall.

e. Free bus service on the post is available to you. Consult the bulletin board in the Guest House where you are staying for schedule and routes of buses.

f. If you need any assistance while visiting Camp Breckinridge or require additional information, please contact the Special Services Officer at Building T-1508, or phone 84 or 85.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Conservation Plan Is Essential

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Inevitably a state of the union message reads like a shopping list. It is the president's petition to congress for those things he believes to be essential to the welfare of the nation.

The Truman shopping list is long and all-inclusive. The president has asked for all the things he talks about in his campaign and some that he didn't talk about.

If he were to get all of them in just the form he asks, which probably not even the president expects, we should see well-nigh revolutionary changes in this country.

Thus, along with civil rights, public housing, a national health insurance system, expanding social security aid to education, he renews in a single sentence 10 words long his plea for universal military training.

U. M. T. Not Likely
There is little likelihood that congress will grant universal training. It even may be doubted whether the president wants it, since it would add several billions to the annual budget.

Since the message is a shopping list, covering the ambitious housewife's hopes and prayers as well as her urgent necessities, there may seem little reason to look behind the tersely stated items. Presumably, from time to time the president will spell out specific requests in considerably more detail.

But Mr. Truman's decision that poverty is unnecessary was well received. . . . From now on the poor will please stop being poor.

It was good to hear him talk about sharing the wealth but he really didn't need to. . . . The Treasury had already told Benny.

It was no surprise that Governor Dewey will not send a float to the inauguration parade. To one so recently sunk "float" is a bad word.

I hear the only consolation he has these days is that Truman won't get into the White House for at least a year.

But the Blair house is a lovely place. . . . the floors were recently covered with new carpets and the lawns are covered with old Democrats.

WASHINGTON—Rep. Hollifield (D) Calif. . . . "President Wilson has his Square Deal, President Roosevelt has his New Deal, and I think President Truman has come into his own and will give the people a true deal."

WASHINGTON—Chairman McCarran (D) Nev. of the Senate Judiciary committee . . . "I have introduced a bill which would compel every state to give full faith and credit to divorces granted in every other state."

Hints On Etiquette
A young woman is doing the correct thing in asking a young man if she has met to call on her. If she is shy about asking him to come to see her alone, she may ask him to meet some of her friends.

Marshall Plan In Transition

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Brain-trusters of the European Cooperation Administration may soon be humming the Tru Deal dirge entitled: "Oh, fie! We're going to be unified."

President Truman made this clear when he recently directed a coordination of "all related aspects of foreign economic and military program." The last word was definitely plural. The somewhat sacrosanct ECA was not exempted.

Up to this point the 1700-odd workers for Paul G. Hoffman, ECA administrator, had reason to hope that nothing so drastic would happen to them. True, unification has been the watchword around town for a couple of years now. The Reorganization Act was supposed to simplify congressional committee. The Hoover Commission was appointed to streamline the executive departments. The Unification Act was passed to make on happy family out of the armed services.

Only the Beginning

These were only the beginning of the clean-up movement. Until November 2nd the bustling broom of Tom Dewey overhung the heads of all bureaucrats. Since November 2nd there have been similar threats from the Democratic victors. Quite a few loose agencies seem due to be swept under Oscar Ewing's rug in the Federal Security Agency, which might get Cabinet status. Maurice Tobin, the empire-building Secretary of Labor, has his eye on the Federal Mediation Service and the National Labor Relations Board, a couple of likely colonies.

But the passion for consolidation seemed not to affect ECA until Mr. Truman's recent directive. Almost simultaneously the State Department announced the appointment of Ernest A. Gross under the make-shift title of "Coordinator of Foreign Assistance Programs." Again the term was plural. Gross' duties are not of a paper-work nature. He will collect the various foreign policy plans and see that they are laid before Mr. Truman and congress in one basket.

Two Queries Arise

But even this begins to spell the long familiar word—unification. Weeks, maybe months, will pass before the big word gets set up in neon lights so that the far-away public can read it clearly. But here in Washington it takes only normal eyesight to see what's coming. Two queries are worth making at this point:

1. Is ECA to be departmentalized? The Gross appointment was made by the State Department with almost impolite haste. ECA hardly had a chance to take in the presidential directive. Of and when unification of foreign assistance becomes a reality, State has established a priority claim on being the parent organization.

But ECA, as created by the 80th Congress, was carefully set up as an independent agency. Presumably it could not come under control of State. Senator Vandenberg, author of the legislation, took pains to put Mr. Hoffman and Secretary Marshall on equal footing so far as the plan was concerned. The Foreign Assistance Act (in Section 105) instructs both these men to "keep each other fully and currently informed" on what goes on, and provides that matters in dispute between them "shall be referred to the President for final decision." Yet if unification takes place and if ECA is made subordinate to the State Department, there will have to be one boss—not co-equal bosses. Congress would then be called upon to rewrite the Plan almost in full.

To Be Militarized?

2. Is ECA to be militarized? Both the President and State Department spoke of coordinating programs, plural, not just the ECA, singular. This seems to mean that the Marshall Plan is now to be packaged, for what purposes we do not know for sure, with such strictly military ventures as the Truman Doctrine in Greece and Turkey, the occupations of Germany, Japan and Korea, the support of Nationalist China, the reciprocal defense pacts with the Philippine Republic and that of South America—and finally and vitally—with Western Union of Europe.

But none of this was an original purpose of ECA, at least so far as the public was ever told. Again and again in last year's debate, Senator Vandenberg and the Administration spokesmen denied that the Marshall Plan was anything but an economic adventure. Many a skeptic ventured to predict that our arms and armies would eventually follow our money and materials to Europe.

Many things change in the course of a year. One of them seems to be the Marshall Plan. It is now in a state of transition. Unification could be only a symptom of things to come.

THE BRIDGE TABLE WILL BE SET UP IN THE LIBRARY AND, IF YOU WANT TO, YOU CAN HEAR THE CEREMONY EASILY WITHOUT LEAVING YOUR CHAIR. I'LL FIND SOMEONE TO TAKE MY PLACE AT FOUR, AND JUST AS SOON AS THEY'RE MARRIED AND LEAVE THE HOUSE I'LL COME BACK AND CUT IN. I'VE TALKED WITH THE DAY CLUB MEETS, BUT SHE WAS STUBBORN AND WOULDN'T LISTEN.

Oh, quit worrying about all this talk as to what the Chinese Communists may do to Pieping. It's just another red herring.

Of course, right now her house-keeping load may be very light in comparison with your daily job. Even so, it's not the help she needs so much as the psychology of your helping. If only a bit occasionally. After one or two children have arrived there can be no question about the weight of her job and nervous strain. Even then, for you to share sometimes in the household cares and the care of the baby is many times more meaningful to her happiness and yours now and later than the mere physical relief from her burdens. It's what it all means to her, a person, your wife.

Something more—as you help in the physical care of the tiny infant and also in bathing him when he is two or three, reading to him, making things with him, enjoying his creations, "hearing" his prayers, putting him to bed, occasionally or often, you grow in appreciation of him as a developing personality, all of which can cement more securely your best companionship with your wife.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

than a mile in length and fifty yards wide on each side of the modest stream where silt was piled more than fourteen inches thick as a result of one deluge. Multiply this by thousands and one phase of soil erosion will be apparent.

What flows down the Missouri and the Mississippi every year, taken from farm lands of the upper regions and deposited on the river bottoms, is indicated by the fact that periodically the levees along these two erratic streams have to be raised because the bottom of the streams rise with every spring flood, due to the accumulation of silt. The higher the bottoms rise, the higher the levees must be.

Only One Phase
Erosion, of course, is only one phase of our conservation problems. There is our timber supply, vital to the housing of the people and the paper industry. There are our diminishing iron ore reserves, basis of steel and all it means to commerce, industry and defense. There is the steady depletion of our oil reserves, vital to our domestic welfare and our military potency. These problems or more or less discernible even to the unpracticed eye of the layman.

But there is another and greater problem. That is the dissipation of our soil production. At the height of our vast program of exports for European relief one practical farmer warned the officials of the government that with every cargo of wheat and corn and cotton we shipped abroad we were shipping the priceless elements of our farm soils. This was literally true. We have made tremendous progress in scientific farming, our intensive cultivation methods and our recourse to fertilizers of various types have helped us to keep pace with the domestic and world demand for foodstuffs. But an ominous fact confronts civilization. The increase in population throughout the world, regardless of the Malthusian idea of depopulation by wars and famine and pestilence, outruns the productive capacity even of modern agriculture with its mechanical and chemical aids.

Need Conservation Program
Now the satisfying truth, as attested by the ablest experts of America, is that a sane, honest program aimed at true conservatism could obviate the dangers inherent in the squandering of our vital and irreplaceable resources. In a dramatic moment in a certain stage drama, the famous Ethel Barrymore uttered a phrase which we hope will never be used to describe the exhaustion of our natural gifts from Providence—"That is, there is; there isn't any more." Not only America, but the civilized world will be face to face with stark tragedy if and when we ever reach the point in our native resources where "there isn't any more." Not politically, not sectionally, not selfishly, let us unite in serious and sensible consideration of conservation as a policy of high morality and enlightened self-interest. Soil, forests, minerals, oil, water—these are the providential gifts which we are honor bound to appreciate, foster and cherish. Let "conservation" become something more than an academic or political word.

ing down to the sea each year. That is an irretrievable loss that each year makes us a poorer nation. It must be checked and it can be checked only through a national plan.

The time has come, it seems to me, to name a national conservation commission made up of the greatest experts in the field. To say "objective" might be futile, since the experts do not all agree. But it should be possible to get the best balance of opinion on a nationwide approach to what is the greatest single threat to our well-being.

This need not hold up the dams and the irrigation projects considered immediately essential. Congress can authorize the piecemeal work to continue. There should be no doubt, however, that piecemeal doling out of projects is at best a stopgap; that is to say better than nothing at all.

Here, it seems to me, is an opportunity that may not come again for a long time. Conservation, dams, irrigation had a lot to do with President Truman's re-election. Public opinion is prepared for something big. An item on a shopping list must be expadded into a great hope and a great vision.

Time and again he called for the "air cover" that Goering had promised so lavishly but the Luftwaffe was unable to supply it. Guderian's last great effort was made around Bastogne in the "Battle of the Bulge" in December, 1944, the result of a German offensive which might have turned the tide of war had not the skies cleared, enabling the Allied Air Force to go fully into action.

Whether or not the general's assessment of the outlook will have any bearing on the defense plans involved in the Western European pact is a question.

It is known that plans are going ahead for reactivation of a number of French divisions with surplus American material.

It is known also that Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chairman of the military defense board of the Western European Union, has established "advance headquarters" in Luxembourg—which means that the Rhine is being looked upon as the logical main line of defense.

Future events may see it moved farther eastward unless some miracle lightens the present tension of the world.

"SUGAR AND FAT"
Fat and sugar are good articles of diet.

Sometimes they have to be regulated a little.

Diabetes is a disease in which sugar causes trouble. Eating too much sugar does not cause diabetes.

Obesity is a disease caused by eating too much sugar and fat or just by eating too much period.

A person who has diabetes is in danger all the time. With good medical care he can be comfortable and live a long life.

An obese person is in danger too. With the proper amount of food and sufficient exercise, obesity may be cured or prevented.

As a rule, light-colored honeys are mild. The darkest generally have a strong flavor. Flavor in honey is not necessarily a test of quality.

Two Mathematicians Give Testimony In Grand Jury Probe

Worked During War On Top-Secret
Norden Bombsight At Aberdeen, Md.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Two university mathematicians who worked during the war on the top-secret Norden bombsight and guided missile research at the Aberdeen (Md.) proving grounds testified before the spy-probing New York Federal Grand Jury Thursday.

The men, Professors Edward J. McShane, 44, of the University of Virginia and John L. Kelley, 32, of the University of California, told newsmen they were called to give "technical information on exterior ballistics."

Professor McShane said the jury also wanted information regarding the character of another former ballistics expert at Aberdeen, Franklin Reno.

Both men, who testified for about 45 minutes, described Reno as a good friend who had collaborated with them on a book "Exterior Ballistics."

McShane said he had "no evidence that Reno was a Communist," Kelley, who smilingly remarked that he, McShane and Reno were sort of a "two bit brain trust" at Aberdeen, declared that Reno was of good character, because "otherwise we would not have associated with him."

The youthful University of California professor disclosed that the trio, among their many duties at Aberdeen, made up the tables for the Norden bomb sight.

McShane said he had known Reno, who is also an astronomer, since 1942, when they met at Aberdeen.

He explained that exterior ballistics is determining how a projectile moves through the air to its striking point.

ROSE POINT

Neva Young, of Rose Point and Mrs. Carl Forrester, of Prospect, have returned from Decatur, Ill., where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dudley and son.

Pvt. James Haney, who had been stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., spent a 20 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haney. Pvt. Haney left Saturday for Pittsburgh, enroute to California for further assignment.

SUCCESS STORY

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—Horatio Alger would be proud of Thomas H. Bulmar.

The 42-year-old native of England came to Altoona "by freight" 15 years ago, and went to the Altoona Prison for food and lodging.

He got a job as a truck driver for the mission, became a citizen, married and had four children. In World War II he served three years.

To complete the success story, Bulmar was named superintendent of the Rescue Mission Wednesday.

Celery is less perishable than other stem vegetables. However, it does require being kept as cool as possible. Cars carrying celery are fully iced even during the winter.

Utilities Stocks Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated
NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 7.—During the past few days I asked many investment bankers: "In view of the business and market uncertainties what are the safest stocks to hold?" The general answer was that the stocks of the operating utilities companies offer the best combination of safety and income.

Total kilowatt hour output of the utilities will decline with general business, but this decline will be from industrial customers. As many electric companies are now short of generating capacity, and cannot take on many new residential customers, this could be a blessing in disguise. Residential customers are much more profitable than large industrial customers. Therefore, by switching customers, the total output could decline without a decline in profits. Electric companies have very few labor troubles. In the case of water companies, the labor expense is only 20 per cent, compared with 80 per cent in the printing industry. The labor expense for the entire electrical industry is low—equalled only by the chemical industry. Therefore, it has little to fear from the much-talked-of "fourth round" of wage increases.

General Operating Expenses
The electrical industry is a large purchaser of supplies, including millions of miles of copper wire, millions of poles, arms and insulators, thousands of trucks, as well as great quantities of coal, oil and natural gas. Although there may be some further price-increases on some of these products, yet the corner has turned downward on the average. This should benefit the utilities so long as we avoid war with Russia or the Chinese Communists.

The only "nigger in the woodpile" is the attitude of utility commissions regarding rates. Many utility companies are in need of higher rates, especially street railway and bus companies which have large labor expense. As, however, these rate-making bodies clearly understand that to take care of their customers the utilities must have more capital, and in order to raise more capital must give investors a reasonable dividend, they should gladly grant these needed rate increases.

Utilities As Inflation Hedges
Utilities of operating companies can be recommended for safety and for income, but they should not be selected as hedges against inflation. If considered only the cost of replacement, stocks of utility operating companies should be worth double what they were ten years ago provided they cannot be caught by the "Depreciation Formula". The fact, however, that utilities are not free to raise their rates without special permission, is a distinct handicap. Hence, for inflation hedges it is better to buy steel, oil or merchandising stocks.

A live merchant can always keep one jump ahead of inflation. It is wise to confine one's purchase of electric company stocks to the territory in which you live. You, yourself, should know the attitude of your public authorities on this rate-making problem; it is reflected by your local newspapers. If you believe that your public service commission is fair, then buy the stock of the company supplying your home with electricity; but not otherwise.

Importance of Diversification
Of course, you should not put all your eggs in any one basket, however good that basket may be. This means that one should not have more than 20 per cent of his funds in public utilities, and not more than 5 per cent in any one company. An investor should have his funds divided amongst different industries, different companies and different sections. As a final thought, I urge you to avoid utilities in big cities that might be bombed in case of World War III.

While on an Indian ocean flight a fisheries scouting plane recently located a shoal, 18 miles long, of a new type of sardines in the Gulf of Aden.

Public Inspecting New Oldsmobiles At Chevrolet-Keystone

Both Futuramic Series No. 78 And
98 On Display At Showrooms
On West Side

Public display of the new "Futuramic" designed Oldsmobiles Series 76 and Series 98 is drawing widespread attention at the display rooms of the Chevrolet-Keystone garage, 210 West Washington street.

All series of Oldsmobiles for 1949 will be "Futuramic" according to announcement from officials of the General Motors corporation.
Series 98 is newly styled outside and newly appointed inside while both series offer new engines, the "76" powered by an improved "Big Six" and the "98" featuring an entirely new high compression plant, the 1949 "Rocket" engine.

The "Rocket" engine is the most powerful ever installed in an Oldsmobile with its 135 horsepower, an increase of 20 horsepower over the eight-cylinder 1948 engine. From an engineering standpoint the most distinctive feature of the "Rocket" is its vibration free construction.
The crankshaft has been shortened and supported with main bearings between each crankshaft throw.
Series "76" has an entirely new Fisher body of "Futuramic" design with greatly improved vision for all passengers and wider seats for increased riding comfort. The rear seat is seven inches wider than the previous "76" model. The 1949 Series "76" Futuramic Oldsmobile has a wheel base of 119½ inches and an overall length of 202 inches. Hydra-matic drive is again featured in all models.

The public is invited to inspect these new models at the company's show rooms.

Asks Newspapers Promote Harmony

President James L. McDevitt Of State AFL Asks Papers Minimize Labor Disputes

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—
Pennsylvania newspapers today had a plea from the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL) to emphasize labor-management harmony instead of industrial disputes.

In a New Year's statement President James L. McDevitt said newspapers could aid in achieving industrial peace by featuring stories of harmony and minimizing reports of disputes.

"American employers and workers must unite in fighting their common enemy—newspaper headlines of industrial strife is food for the subversives abroad and in our midst," he said.

Labor welcome constructive criticism of its dealings with employers and any other matters which should be given full public view, but the press during the war and to the present has given the public the conception that labor-employer bargaining is one continuous conflict," McDevitt asserted.

City Hall

Salaries Paid City Officials

List Of Those Not Recently Given On Salary Ordinance Presented

OTHER NEWS OF COUNCIL AFFAIRS

Annual salaries now paid members of council and the chiefs in some departments are as follows: mayor, $4,000; councilmen, $3,500; treasurer, $4,750 (paid jointly by city and school board); solicitor, $4,500; assistant solicitor, $2,400; controller, $3,500; and city engineer, $4,200; assessor, $3,091.20; earned income receiver, $4,600; and receiver's assistant, $2,500. (A deputy wage tax receiver is to be appointed. The salary has not yet been announced.)

In the budget for this year has been placed $10,000 for zoning. As yet no firm has been engaged to perform the task. It is reported by those in a position to know, that the present zoning system is obsolete.

Out of council's $150,000 proposed for capital outlay this year, arrangements already have been made to purchase a new 85-foot aerial ladder truck for the fire department at a cost of $29,000. It will not be delivered for 240 days. It was bought from the American LaFrance Foamite Company, Elmira, N.Y.

One hundred and seventy dollars are allotted for the operation of the civil service boards for fire and police for the year. Of this sum $120, is for the salary of the secretary, Attorney Ralph Cooper, and $50 for supplies. It is anticipated that a test for police and firemen will be held soon, because lists are good only for one year, and the present list is about to die.

It is anticipated that it will cost $6,877.20 to "janitor" the city building this year. Possibility exists that when city hall is moved to the new structure at North Jefferson and Grant streets, an additional janitor will be required. At present no janitorial work of a large degree is done in the police department or annex building. This janitorial service is assigned to prisoners.

Believing it is good business to have good cars at all times, Mayor John F. Haven has adopted a policy of having council buy three new cars annually for the police bureau. It is not known when he will have council ask for bids for new cars.

Council has appropriated for the dog catcher and assistant $2,345.10. This is one department which practically pays for itself. Whenever the dog-catcher disposes of a canine he clips the ears and the state refunds to the city $1 for each ear, which the dog-catcher hands over to the city.

It costs $6,500 for watchmen to guard children to and from school and no one has ever made any complaint of this service, which was inaugurated when the mayor, John F. Haven was chief of police. The watchmen protect the children and motorists who disobey their signals are reported, and when found guilty, are fined in police court.

The meter deposits for 1948 did not reach the anticipated $40,000. However, when counted and finally accounted for it is believed it will have approximated $38,000. Policemen are required to devote considerable of their time to this duty. The city also employs a service operator and collector and for his work, supplies and repairs, has appropriated $3,039.60.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

SLEEPLESSNESS IN CHILDREN

Now and again, a youngster can't seem to drop off to sleep. He turns and tosses until a late hour or bothers parents with a variety of demands. If such sleeplessness continues, it is well to explore possible causes. Here are a few suggestions of things that very likely may be in the picture. He may be having naps that are too long, which leave him wide-awake during the early hours of the night. There is nothing particularly bad about this except that it does interfere with family routine. If ones wishes to change the pattern, the youngster should be wakened from his nap sometime before he would ordinarily get up.

On the other hand, some sleeplessness is caused because the child becomes so overtired and nervous that he can't relax. Here, obviously, more rest during the day and a calm environment is indicated.

With other children, exciting radio programs or even active play before retiring may get in the way of sleep. Another factor causing sleeplessness is heavy food for supper.

If a child doesn't go to sleep easily, the wise parent won't fuss and fume about it, but will try to determine what the causes may be and deal with them, rather than punish the child.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Jan Masaryk, Czech patriot who either killed himself or was murdered when the Communists seized power in his unfortunate country, was under no illusions of the dangers confronting him on every side before the final blow was delivered.

Once Cordell Hull reproached him with signing a "mutual aid" treaty with Russia. In reply, Masaryk affixed his signature to a blank scrap of paper on Hull's desk and explained, "Now I have signed a mutual aid pact with the U. S. A. Just fill in the terms you want over my signature."

Just before Masaryk left America for the last time, he said sorrowfully, "Czechoslovakia is a bridge between the Soviet and the West—and you know what people use bridges for."

Mrs. Dubiller, back from England, announced that the British Museum wasn't everything it was cracked up to be. "I asked to see the skull of Oliver Cromwell," she particularized, "and they had to admit they had none. You should have seen their faces when I reminded them there's a line on in that two-by-four museum up at Oxford."

Area Dairymen Hear Production Ideas

Dairy Company Representative Discusses Steady Year Round Milk Production

Need for a steady around-the-year milk production and the dairy industry's future were discussed by W. E. Arnold of the Pittsburgh office of the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy company at a meeting of more than 80 dairymen and their families in the I.O.O.F. hall, West Midlesex, Thursday evening.

Mr. Arnold, supervisor of field service for the dairy company, complimented the dairymen for their past efforts in producing to meet the market needs and pointed out that continued efforts along this line are vitally important to every dairy farmer as well as to all branches of the industry in the future.

The meeting was the second that the dairy company has held for the county's farmer-milk producers who deliver their milk to the local plant here. Wednesday, 140 dairymen met in the Grange hall at New Wilmington.

Joseph McClure, company field man, presided at each of the meetings. Other employees on the program included, Frank Bryan, sales representative; Stanley Gerlach, receiving plant superintendent and J. L. Clovis, farm service representative, who showed two interesting technical films. Concluding the program, William F. Simler, manager of the New Castle plant, presented door prizes, consisting of milk cans, milk pails and cleaning and sterilizing powders, to various farmers present. Ice cream and cake was served to everyone present.

PLUNGES TO DEATH

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A wealthy spinster plunged seven floors to her death today from a Park avenue apartment building.

Police said the woman, Miss Emmie Lillenthal, 55, eluded her nurse for only a few moments and apparently jumped from a bedroom window.

Her body, clad only in a night dress, crashed off the canvas canopy of the La Rue Restaurant on East 58th St., then landed on the pavement.

Taproom Manager Slain In Robbery At Chester, Pa.

CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—Two bandits shot and killed the manager of a Chester taproom early today and escaped with what police said was a "large sum".

The victim, Jacob Davis, 32, manager of the 520 club, was shot with a 32-calibre automatic pistol fired during the course of the holdup, police said.

An hour after the robbery police questioned a host of men who answered the bandits' general description. They were described as tall and slim and said to be attired in tan coats.

Police said Davis was shot as he stooped behind the bar for the cashbox on the thugs' order. He was pronounced dead at Chester hospital.

Oscar Derby In Progress

No Entry Is As Yet Official But Choice Seems To Be Centering On Few

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Hollywood's annual Oscar derby is in progress today.

No entry is official as yet. But members of the movie colony are beating the drums for their favorites in what is expected to be the closest Academy Award race in history.

The 1949 Oscars will be presented in March on a Warner Bros. studio sound stage. The usual whoop-de-do will be noticeably absent in Hollywood's currently avowed aim to give the affair "dignity."

The public won't even get a look-see at their film favorites at the studio gates because virtually everybody who is anybody in Hollywood will be instructed to whoosh through the portals and hie directly to the town's largest sound stage.

Will Be Broadcast The affair will be broadcast, and then will follow a buffet and a dance for the cream of the cream.

Closest "Oscar" race is expected to be in the best actress' competition with Olivia De Havilland, Barbara Stanwyck, Ingrid Bergman, Irene Dunne, and Jennifer Jones battling for honors.

Olivia is up for the neurotic role she portrayed in "The Snake Pit," Barbara for the terrified heroine of "Sorry, Wrong Number," Ingrid for the title role in the epic "Joan of Arc," Irene for the courageous immigrant mother of "I Remember Mama," and Jennifer for "Portrait of Jennie."

The Hollywood sages predict that the following will be up for best picture nominations:

"The Snake Pit," "Johnny Belinda," "Hamlet," "Treasure of the Sierra Madre," "Portrait of Jennie," "Joan of Arc," "Command Decision," "The Naked City," and "The Search." They give "Red River," "Sitting Pretty," and "Easter Parade" outside chances of getting nominated.

Laurence Olivier, for his widely acclaimed "Hamlet," is rated almost a cinch for male acting honors.

Television Sets

Show Improvement

Over Early Models

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Manufacturers of latest television sets asserted today that the models they now are presenting to the public feature tremendous improvement over early sets.

They point to such features as larger and more brilliant images, various changes in the design of the screen and luxurious refinements in cabinet work.

Some of the Chicago Furniture Mart's annual winter market have push-button devices which make it possible to snap the image into a close-up, thus dramatizing the facial expression of the video actors.

Manufacturers said that cabinet work now is of such quality that the television set can become the focal point around which the entire decorative scheme of a finely appointed room may be built.

Russian Demand

To Rescind Order

In Japan Rejected

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The Far Eastern Commission rejected a Russian demand that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be instructed to rescind his "no-strike" order against Japanese government employees.

After a closed meeting of the commission, Soviet Ambassador Panyushkin charged that MacArthur violated the Potsdam declaration and imposed "anti-democratic" measures on the Japanese.

FEC attaches revealed that the Soviet proposal was voted down, but they declined to disclose the exact vote.

The Soviet envoy charged that MacArthur, as supreme Allied commander, violated "Democratic freedoms in Japan" by ruling that government employees could not engage in strikes or conclude collective agreements.

A single herd of bison, seen by Col. R. L. Dodge in May, 1871, was estimated to contain at least 4,000,000 animals.

WHEN VET AND BRIDE HAVE RELIGIOUS CEREMONY

"My son who was in the service married, with a civil ceremony, a German girl. She is now on her way to the United States and they are planning on a religious ceremony. May relatives and friends attend the ceremony and may we have a reception? May we telephone our invitations or must they be mailed? What may the bride wear and may she have attendants?"

Answer: So far as the ritual of the religious ceremony is concerned, I cannot advise you, since different denominations have different rules for such a situation.

Some churches recognize a civil marriage ceremony and simply give a blessing to the couple. Other churches do not consider a civil ceremony a marriage so the couple must again go through a complete wedding ceremony. This the clergyman will explain to you. Regardless of the rules of etiquette which should be obeyed. For instance, the bride of this second ceremony, not being a maiden, must not wear a veil nor should she wear white. Any pastel shade (long afternoon dress and hat) or street-length dress or suit will be correct. A maid or matron-of-honor and a best man may be included but no bridesmaids. These are correctly included in a formal wedding only—the bride's first.

You may have your friends and relatives witness the ceremony (usually this is not done since there is really not a wedding in the full sense of the word); but you may have a large reception that your friends may meet your new daughter-in-law. Invitations may be telephoned or written in note form. If you want to "do it up brown" with formality, send engraved reception invitations with a general verbal invitation to the ceremony. These, of course, must not be wedding invitations since the groom's mother must not issue invitations to her son's wedding. Here's a form to use:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith request the pleasure of your company at a (name of function) on Saturday the fifteenth of January at (time) (address) You may insert across the top of the invitation "To meet Mrs. John Jones, Jr."

Report Senator
Is 'Romancing'Senator Magnuson Of Washington
Missing Opening Congress
Sessions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Sen. Warren Magnuson (D) Wash., was listed Thursday as "necessarily absent" from the Senate as published reports had him "romancing" a movie actress on the west coast.

Senate Democratic sources said merely that Magnuson had informed them he would miss the opening of the 81st Congress while taking care of some matters in his home state.

Published reports said, however, that he is "romancing" June Millard, 25-year-old, golden-haired actress, who is known professionally as Toni Seven.

She is the daughter of the late June Caprice, film star of many years ago, and Harry Millarde, the famous director. Both left her a fortune in trust funds—estimated at $3,000,000—but she reportedly will not receive the bulk of the inheritance until her mid-30s.

Magnuson and the actress, who formerly was under contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, met in Washington at a cocktail party last May. They were soon seen constantly together in New York and Washington.

Miss Millard reportedly left New York over a month ago to marry the 43-year-old Democratic senator during the Christmas holidays.

Magnuson was married briefly while he was in law school but was divorced in Seattle in 1929.

G.O.P. Members Given Ribbing

Andrews Pokes Fun At State Legislators At Harrisburg On G.O.P. Side

OTHER NEWS OF STATE ACTIVITIES

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Johnstown, has described the Republican delegation in the lower chamber of the General Assembly as "too fat" in a facetious moment while speaking from the floor during the legislature's opening session the often sharp-tongued Democratic leader ribbed the Republican members for capturing the house speaker's ship through sheer "nanpower." Outnumbered 117 to 91, he said, the Democrats didn't expect to capture the post by "plain physical power." But, he noted, "the Republicans have taken my advice and reduced—they were getting too fat." He referred to the drop from the 131-man GOP majority in the house during the 1947 session.

State Sen. James E. Geltz (R) Pittsburgh, believes that the state eventually will adopt a sales tax or graduated personal income tax. He was one of the leading figures in formulating recommendations for a states sales tax to the 1949 General Assembly. Although little support is expected this year, "within the next few years the commonwealth will necessarily come to this tax program," Geltz said. Taxes in the future will be "direct and open" he explained. Under present systems, most taxes are hidden. "Where corporation taxes are imposed, the corporation merely adds the tax on its expenses and increases the price of its product to the consumer, he explained.

Allegheny county apparently is the "huntingest" county in the state. In its final report on resident licenses sold, the state game commission reports that Allegheny was tops with 63,630. Next was Westmoreland with 32,295.

Philadelphia, the state's largest county in population was well down the list with only 21,372.

The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum commission wants about $60,000 from the General Assembly to reprint 2,000 copies of all Pennsylvania statutes at large prior to 1700. One of two volumes containing the colonial statutes has been lost and the commission wants to replace it. A man has been retained in Britain to search the government records there for reference to the statutes. The work would be in line with the commission's work under the direction of Director Donald A. Cadzow in reconstructing Pennsylvania's early history.

When the senate reorganized on the opening day of the 1949 session of the General Assembly, Sen. Anthony J. Disilvestro was the envy of his colleagues with his ornate floral piece sent by constituents from Philadelphia. A replica of the state capitol dome, it was so large that speculation was rampant about what was inside. President Pro Tempore M. Harvey Taylor jocularly told newsmen that "it has doves inside and when the proper times comes they'll be released to symbolize harmony."

House Majority Leader Charles H. Brunner has surrounded himself with young colleagues to help him guide the Republican side of the house during the 1949 session. The transfer of several older members with seniority to other seats didn't meet with their approval but Brunner's move was in the interest of efficiency. His mainstays will include Rep. Stuart Helm from Armstrong and Rep. Charles C. Smith from Philadelphia.

Plan Singspiration At Wesley Church

Rev. E. F. Spring, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, has announced that beginning Sunday, January 9 and every Sunday evening, thereafter, unless announced otherwise, there will be an evening of song and praise in the West Side church.

It will be an informal hour of singing the gospel hymns with the approval but Brunner's move was in the interest of efficiency. A brief meditation will be given each Sunday evening on one of the better loved gospel hymns. Each service is at 7:30 p.m.

Waynesburg, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—A freezing wind whistled through the Waynesburg County jail today, and that's the way Anon Ahlchich, 62-year-old jail inmate, apparently wanted it.

Sheriff Emil Fox said that the prisoner knocked out 18 windows in the jail with a broom handle before he could be subdued.

Ahlchich was jailed for disorderly conduct last Dec. 11 and was scheduled to be released soon.

BE SURE IT IS A BARGAIN BEFORE YOU BUY ARTICLE

Have you ever stood in front of a clothes closet full of clothes and remarked, "I don't have a thing to wear." Perhaps you should take stock of your shopping habits. When is a bargain a bargain? This is certainly a big question for many shoppers. If an article is not needed now or in the future, certainly it is no bargain at any price. Articles bought on the spur of the moment may not be suitable. On the other hand, if you plan your wardrobe with an eye toward the future and a necessary item appears on sale, it would be wise to buy it. Be familiar with merchandise in several stores in your community. This is helpful in judging reliable sales. Many stores have sales at the end of a season. At this time, it is a good idea to buy standard fabrics, such as chambrays, ginghams, piques, etc., which are always used by the person who sews. Good quality remnants in colors that fit into your wardrobe or that of some other member of the family are a good buy. If ready-made garments are purchased at the end of the season, it is important to keep fashion trends in mind. It is not wise to buy faddish styles since this type is the first to be outmoded. Choose a more conservative or classic type.

Remember it is a "white elephant" if it just hangs in your clothes closet. It is wise to give some thought to the selection of all things where an investment is to be made. Be sure it will meet the needs of the present and have durability, if it is to give satisfaction.

GOOD LEGUME ROUGHAGE REQUIRED BY EWE FLOCK

Feed requirements of the ewe flock as determined by physical condition and a check on whether they had a fall phenothiazine drench on pasture are the concern of Lawrence county sheepmen as their ewes go into winter quarters.

If the usual fall drench for internal parasites was omitted, it should be given now. The kind and amount of feed ewes need will depend upon their condition. Ewes which have been gaining in weight since the lambs were weaned and are strong and thrifty will need little more than good legume roughage for the next two months. But if the roughage is of poor quality, it will pay to feed a little home-grown grain. A mixture of three parts of oats and two parts corn by measure is regarded as an ideal grain mixture for the bred ewe flock, in addition to mixed hay.

When corn silage is available, a bushel crate fed daily for every 10 ewes will help keep them in thrifty condition at a little cost. Caution must be taken not to feed any moldy or frozen silage. Exercise, fresh water, and salt are three essentials for the ewe flock, in addition to a balanced ration.

C. E. Officers Hear Rev. James Gaiser

Rev. James Gaiser was guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the officers of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union, held in the Central Presbyterian church, Thursday evening.

Rev. Gaiser gave a splendid talk on his experiences during his recent trip to Europe. He stressed the need for help there, and endorsed CARE enthusiastically.

The group decided to send a CARE package to Europe. Devotions were led by Ruth Gardner, of Plain Grove.

Refreshments served by the committee, closed the meeting. The next meeting will be in the form of a tureen supper as a part of the union's activities for Young People's week.

Scientists, many years before anyone ever even thought of such things as atomic bombs, suggested the idea that worlds, in extreme old age, lose their stability and are destroyed by atomic explosions.

Postpone Trial Of Man Accused On Fraud Charge

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The trial of former U. S. Commissioner Howard M. Long, who is accused of issuing fraudulent citizenship documents to Chinese aliens, was postponed indefinitely Thursday.

The 72-year-old former commissioner's attorney won a delay with the consent of government attorneys, who reported to Judge J. Cullen Ganey that Long was "physically and mentally incompetent to stand trial at this time."

The government has accused Long of falsely cleaning alien Chinese of charges of being in this country illegally, and of sealing certificates verifying the citizenship of the Chinese.

The government alleges that Long received $300 for each such transaction.

Thomas Trial Is Postponed To February 7

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Federal Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut postponed until February 7 the trial of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J., on charges he forced congressional employees to "kick-back" their salaries to him.

The trial was set for January 17, but was postponed at the request of U. S. Attorney George Morris Fay because Thomas is a patient in Walter Reed hospital in Washington.

Fay told the court that hospital officials had informed him that they would be unable to complete medical tests on Thomas, who is suffering from a stomach ailment, until January 20.

Orontes is the ancient name of a river in Syria, now often called Nahr el Asi. It rises in the Lebanon mountains and flows northward as far as the city of Antioch, then westward to the Mediterranean. Near its source stands an ancient monument. Its valley has

Governor Duff Is Opposed To Toll Bridges

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Absolute opposition to toll bridges was voiced Thursday by Gov. James H. Duff.

"I am absolute opposed to any toll bridges on any free highways in Pennsylvania," the governor asserted.

"I repeat what I said last week that I favor any well thought out plan for freeing the present toll bridges."

Legislation allocating $7,000,000 or more for freeing 10 intra-state toll bridges is slated to be introduced in the Senate by Sen. George N. Wade (R) Cumberland.

Two bridges each are located at Harrisburg and Bethlehem and one each at Sunbury, Point Marion, Allentown, Clarks Ferry, Ellwood City and Chertlehol.

Noted Leader From Finland To Speak Here On Saturday

As guest of the American Friends (Quakers), Elvi Lahja Saari will be in New Castle at the Trinity Lutheran church Saturday, January 8, at 8 p. m. She will speak in both Finnish and English.

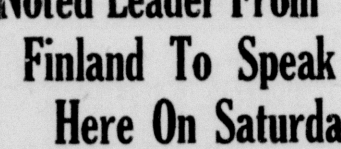

Elvi Lahja Saari was youth leader in the Evangelical Lutheran church of Finland in the years 1935 to '42. She is the only woman in Finland to have graduated from the Theological school of the University of Helsinki and finished the same courses as a minister in the Church of Finland. She would have been ordained into the ministry if she wasn't a woman. Soon after the end of hostilities in Finland after the war, she was executive secretary of the Finnish Work Camp for the rehabilitation of the devastated area in northern Finland.

Elvi Lahja Saari is a gifted woman and is able to speak in English although this presumably is the first trip for her to America.

STOCK MARKET TREND UPWARD

New Gains Of Small Proportions
Are Chalked Up In Early
Dealings

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—

The stock market chalked up new gains of fractions to more than two points in early dealings today. Trading was unusually heavy with large blocks of stock, running to 4,000 shares, changing hands.

The advance was the fourth consecutive session of rising prices. It reflected the growing belief that the market had over-discounted President Truman's legislative demands, and touched off considerable investment buying.

Chrysler was the day's outstanding performer, chalking up a gain of 2 1/2 points to 36 1/2, following an unexpected increase in dividend.

A block of 4,000 shares changed hands at its first sale. Other strong industrials were Allied Chemical which was up 2 at 185; and American Woolen up nearly a point. Ralls also were prominent on the upside. Kansas City Southern was the pace-setter with a gain of 2 1/4 points. Atchison gained 1 1/4. Southern Pacific up 3/4 at 49 1/8, and Rock Island up 3/4 at 34 1/4.

Jewels Valued At $200,000 Stolen In New York City

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Burglars early today broke into the apartment of Erhart Ruegg, wealthy New York textile manufacturer, and his Hungarian actress-wife, Lisette Veree, and escaped with a reported $200,000 in jewelry.

Police said the gems were taken from several jewel boxes in a luxurious apartment.

Authorities said that $1,000 in a purse was overlooked. The Rueggs' butler, who occupies an apartment on the floor below, was questioned by police but he was unable to shed any light on the robbery.

Police said that investigation has been suspended until 9 a. m. when Mr. and Mrs. Ruegg will view rogues gallery pictures.

New Castle To Invade Beaver Falls Tonight For Section 3 Tilt

Hope To Regain Winning Stride

Hoping to regain the stride that carried them through six pre-league wins, first, Beaver Falls tonight will invade the Beaver Falls High court tonight, to battle the always dangerous Tigers.

This will be the second Section Three test for the George Thomas coached machine, the opener here Tuesday against Ambridge being not too successful as the New Castle defense fell apart in the closing minutes to allow the "Bridgers" to win 37 to 34.

Coach Thomas hopes that the Wednesday and Thursday workouts will prove beneficial in straightening out the defensive system of the local flippers.

See Tough Ball Game

New Castle can look for a tough time in Beaver Falls tonight for two reasons, first, Beaver Falls lost to the Allequippa Indians on the opening night 51 to 26 and will want to rebound; second, New Castle won a thriller last year at Beaver Falls 51 to 49 in an overtime session, the Tigers will want to correct this status.

Any New Castle-Beaver Falls sport contest is a real tussle all the way. The Tigers have always given New Castle a hard time.

Don Reed, the sensational young scoring star, and Tony Cialella are the only two New Castle players left from last year who played in the Beaver Falls game, while Beaver Falls has Lou D'Achille, Winters and Carroll back from the team that faced New Castle last year.

In 1948 the New Castle-Beaver Falls two-game series ended in a draw, Beaver Falls winning a 41 to 31 game here.

Other Section Three contests on the card tonight will find Sharon at Ambridge and Farrell at Ellwood City. The Allequippa Indians, being idle, will watch Sharon play at Ambridge.

Winners Keep Pace In A Church Loop

First Congregational, First U. P. And Epworth In Winning Form Wednesday Night

Three persistent winners continued to set a fast pace in the class "A" church league games played at the "Y" Wednesday night.

Lloyd Spears and Greg Thomas split 21 markers as First U. P. defeated St. George 39 to 32. Jim Damaskos showed the way as the Greeks took a 15 to 12 half-time lead but First U. P. rallied in the third period to win going away.

Baptists Winless

Epworth trounced winless First Baptist 43 to 24. Lucky Ward again sparked the Epworth attack with 5 field goals. Bob Hay had 8 markers for the losers.

League leading First Congregational edged Third U. P. 44 to 38. "Weasel" Steinbrink canned 11 points for the winners and Tom Robinson again led the Third U. P. contingent with 5 field goals and a pair of charity tosses.

Boxing War In New York City

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The boxing war between the Tournament of Champions and the long-established Twentieth Century Sporting Club was centered directly in New York for the first time.

The Tournament of Champions—which recently received financial backing from the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Music Corporation of America—announced the leasing of the Manhattan Center for weekly boxing shows.

Previously the T. of C. had lacked a Gotham base of operations, staging its promotions at such nearby points as Newark and Jersey City.

Spokesmen for the T. of C. described the lease, which runs until April 1950, as a "foothold" in New York. Skeptics were inclined to consider it a toehold at best, pointing to the cramped 3,500 seating capacity of the Manhattan Center.

Next step for the T. of C. is application for a New York state license. The organization also announced that it will name a promoter and matchmaker shortly.

ATHLETICS CANCEL S. AMERICAN TRIP

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Athletics today cancelled a scheduled spring training tour of Venezuela and the Republic of Colombia.

Assistant Manager Earle T. Mack blamed the cancellation on "unsettled conditions" in South America.

LEGION UPSETS CALABRIA CLUB

American Legion cagers pulled a big surprise on the C-I league card last night and defeated the high-scoring Calabro club 47 to 37. Pace and Telesz scored 22 points for the vastly improved Legionnaires and Lou Krueger arched 16 markers for the losers.

El Fityet held a slender 27 to 26 lead over B. & O. to start the last period. The railroaders, however, couldn't match the 18-point scoring pace set by El Fityet in the final quarter. Jim Fair and Bob Hassen got 30 points between them for the winners. Owens' 10 was best for B. & O.

CITY DUCKPIN FIRST-HALF ENDS

The city duckpin league first half has ended and the Crystal Bar team won the title, captained by Joe Copple. High individual average man was Premo Argelli with 163. Resume Action In Section 23

New Wilmington At Bessemer Highlight Of Tonight's Four Game Card In County League

Four games are on tap tonight in Lawrence County's own Section 23 basketball league. Results of the first sectional contests Tuesday indicate that there are at least five really good teams in the circuit, and that this year's pennant scrap will again be a real thriller.

New Wilmington Greyhounds invade Bessemer to play this evening's headliner. Coach Bob Eagle-son has a fast moving, high scoring aggregation that is out to vanquish any Cementer hopes of a repeat championship in 1949. Mitch Garbutt, 6-2 Greyhound center, led New Wilmington to a 51 to 26 win over Union Tuesday night and will be a marked man tonight. August Anderson's return to form and the home floor factor may make this game much closer than most observers think.

Eagles Year?

East Brook, a surprise winner over Bessemer Tuesday, gets its first taste of playing away when they engage Union on the Scottie court tonight. "Bud" Mayberry, Bill Pontius, and Tom Jones have been playing high class basketball for the Eagles and are considering this season to be "the" year in East Brook cage history. Union has a big club that hasn't found itself yet, but may explode at any minute and become one of the top contenders in the league. Coach "Chuck" James hopes the explosion comes tonight and that may well be.

The Princeton Bearcats invade Mt. Jackson. Bill Jones, Princeton forward, racked up 19 points in Tuesday night's defeat by Wampum and will bear watching all season. The Bearcats scored 35 points in the last half at Wampum in their opener and, if they can keep that same scoring formula, they will give the powerful Mounties plenty of trouble.

Wildcats At Wampum

Shenango at Wampum completes tonight's card. The Nahas coached "Wildcats" have never shown much respect for their opponents season's records and the Indians will have a ball game on their hands before they can hang up the scalp of the visiting "Wildcats." Shenango is anxious to get into the thick of the title chase and a win tonight would give them a good start on the long up-hill pull.

SALTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—Bob Mathias, 17-year-old Californian who has been awarded the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy as the top amateur athlete in the United States for 1948, had a brief but expressive comment Thursday regarding the honor. "It's terrific," Mathias said.

Barber Shop Quartet Appears At Banquet

Officials of the Lawrence County Council of sportsmen today reported that many reservations have been taken out for the Sportsman's banquet which will be held in the Cathedral at 6:30 p. m. January 15.

One of the reasons for this is due to the two hour show to be staged by the Barber Shop quartet, an organization which has made a big hit in New Castle.

Another reason is due to the fact that some of the older sportsmen of the city will be guests of the organization which is promoting the affair for good fellowship and to acquaint the public with the purposes of the organization.

Orders for reservations may be made by telephoning D. H. Porter, secretary, at 6080-J or 7961-J, or J. Waskins, 7948-W.

Bessemer Legion Swamps Wampum

The Bessemer Legion team swamped the Wampum Merchants last night at the Bessemer court, 85 to 40 with Tasoia the big star with 22 of the Bessemer points. Best for the losers was J. Grinnen with 17 points. Next Monday the Bessemer team will play hosts to the strong Universal Pottery team of New Castle at 8 o'clock.

'Y' Officials Meet Tonight

Officials of the YMCA league games will have a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the "Y". Physical director Harold Pears has urged all referees to be present to review games played to date, to discuss certain rules and to compile an officiating schedule.

Detectives Will Offer Testimony

New York Grand Jury Will Hear Detectives Who Trained Four In Floor "Fix"

By DAVID J. WALSH (International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—New gambling scandal witnesses were called today before the New York Grand Jury which is investigating an alleged attempt to "fix" last Tuesday's George Washington-Manhattan basketball game.

The district attorney simultaneously is trying to determine whether the "fix" plot is part of a widespread gambling scheme with possible national implications.

To Hear Detectives

The new developments came while at least four additional Madison Square games were believed under scrutiny.

It is reported that today's new witnesses were detectives who trailed and trapped four men charged with attempting to bribe David Shapiro, war hero and co-captain of the George Washington five, to throw the Manhattan game.

If the "fix" fixed anything, however, it possibly was the four defendants, who allegedly set out to "buy" a whole game for $1,000. Anyhow, all they bought was a chance to tell it to the grand jury.

JUNIOR CHURCH SCHEDULE

Saturday's schedule in the junior church basketball league is as follows: 3. St. Paul vs St. George; 3:45. Epworth vs Third U. P.; 4:30. First U. P. vs First Baptist; 5:15. S. S. Alliance vs Croton; 6. First Presbyterian vs Trinity; 6:45. First Methodist vs Central Presby; 7:30. First Christian vs A. Z. A.
